WHEREAS in February 1977, two members of the staff of the Hispanic Affairs Commission of the Episcopal Church, Maria Cueto and Raisa Nemiken, after cooperating with the FBI by responding to their questions, were subpoenaed before the Grand Jury in New York to answer additional questions which these staff persons considered a violation of the trust and confidential nature of their relationship with the Hispanic Community; and

WHEREAS, Maria Cueto and Raisa Nemiken refused to answer such questions, were found in contempt, and sentenced to prison for the duration of the life of the Grand Jury;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the 194th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

2. (a) Calls for the elimination of any abuse of grand jury jurisdiction in the State and Federal judicial system;

(b) Urges the return to the historic functions of the grand jury in the United States, restricted to:

(2) investigations initiated by the grand jury of institutions, officials and persons which cannot or will not be done by public officials;

3. Urges the Congress of the United States and the Legislatures of the respective states to pass laws necessary to:

(a) Prohibit unreasonable and oppressive use of the grand jury and of its processes to force witnesses to provide evidence under unnecessarily adverse conditions such as compelling unduly long periods of time away from the witnesses' occupation; attendance at grand jury sessions in inconvenient conditions; causing witnesses to incur expensive transportation, travel and living costs to bring evidence and their testimony to the grand jury when they are not needed or could be produced at a nearer hearing;

(b) Permit witnesses to have legal counsel present to advise them while they testify at grand jury hearings;

4. Commends to Congress and to the various states the reforms of the grand jury system recommended by the American Bar Association at its August, 1977, meeting;

5. Urges the Episcopal Church to take initiative to acquaint its members of their rights and responsibilities in relation to the grand jury system, and how to serve intelligently and effectively as grand jurors;

WHEREAS, the 65th General Convention in this Resolution stated

(a) "that the Episcopal Church at every level of its life be urged to act together and in concert with other churches of Jesus Christ in all matters except those in which deep differences of conviction or church order compel us to act separately," and

"that in all future presentations of budget and program to this General Convention, reference be made to what efforts have been expended to secure data ecumenically and to plan ecumenically," and

"that the dioceses be urged to establish a similar policy of ecumenical review and planning";

AND WHEREAS, the 1977 Annual Meeting of the Episcopal Diocesan Ecumenical Officers (EDEO) resolved ". . . that each ecumenical officer make every effort to make this principle known . . . and work toward articulation of this principle at every level of Diocesan life";

WHEREAS schism between Christian Bodies has frequently been the occasion for bitterness and struggles in manifest discord with the Mind of Christ, and which poison for lengthy periods the relations between those dividing; and

WHEREAS, the Episcopal Church, confronted by schism, should now avoid being trapped in a repetition of this dreary pattern;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that this Convention adopts for this Diocese and commends to all other bodies the following principles:

1. Reconciliation is always a possibility, even after extended periods of time. Nothing should be done by anyone which will, by engendering rancor, reduce the possibility of reconciliation;

2. Everyone, especially those one disagrees with, should be heard attentively and prayerfully, for through them the Holy Ghost may speak. In this connection, the refusal of the St. Louis Congress to permit the Presiding Bishop to speak is regrettable."

WHEREAS, the people of South Africa are still dominated by the policy of apartheid, which churches throughout the world have condemned as an affront to human dignity; and

WHEREAS, our brothers and sisters in Christ in South Africa are denied all peaceful means of dissent or political opposition and are being forced into a position of violent opposition as the only alternative; and

WHEREAS, this diocese in past years has gone on record as a champion for human rights, religious liberties and the rule of law in Southern Africa; therefore

BE IT RESOLVED that this 194th Convention of the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Pennsylvania reaffirm its support and prayers for the people of South Africa in their struggle for freedom and justice; and further

RE-I-2

Report of The Church Foundation
To the Diocesan Convention, October 21 and 22, 1977

This report, prepared for the information of the delegates to the 194th Diocesan Convention, constitutes a brief summary of the Foundation's activities in several areas.

INVESTMENT

The management of a common fund, known as the Consolidated Fund, is one of the Foundation's most important responsibilities. In fact, much of the money invested in the Fund represents a major portion of the permanent endowment funds of many parishes.

Considering the source and nature of the funds, protection of principal, continuity of income at reasonable rates of return and long-term growth of principal constitute the major objectives of the investment program.

The Investment Committee believes that a balanced fund, invested 60% in stocks and 40% in bonds, coupled with a policy of broad diversification in carefully selected securities is the best way to achieve the foregoing objectives.

Based on the September 5, 1977 appraisal, the unit value of the Fund was $21.78, down 1.4% from $22.09, in June and 2.1% from $22.25, the value as of December 5, 1976. On the basis of 12 months annual earnings, the current yield is 5.62%, compared to 5.49% in June and 5.11% in December.

It is difficult to compare the performance of one fund against another because of differences in the composition of the funds but an approximation can be made on the basis of "total return", i.e. the change in the principal value of the fund, assuming the reinvestment of income.

The Foundation recently requested a prominent investment advisory and brokerage firm to report on the Fund's performance for the period from 1969 to 1976. The study showed that the Foundation's 7-year compound rate of return was 7.8%, compared to 6.2% for the Standard & Poor's 500 stock index, 7.3% for a well-known investment grade bond fund and 3.9%–5.1% for three leading balanced investment trusts. Further details concerning the report and the performance of the Fund may be obtained by calling the Foundation office (585-5576).

REAL ESTATE

As the designated trustee of the diocese to hold and administer Church property, the Foundation becomes involved in many real estate transactions of one kind or another stemming from the ownership of real property. The Foundation has been helpful to various parishes and church organizations in a number of situations because of the experience accumulated over the years. Those interested in connection with such matters may contact the Foundation for advice.

INSURANCE

From time to time, the Foundation is called on to consult about various matters relating to church insurance, sometimes in a staff capacity to the Church House.

At the present time, the Foundation is participating in the study which is being made of the group life and comprehensive medical insurance program of the diocese. The firm of Alexander & Alexander has been retained as the insurance consultant for the diocese and conversations are in progress with the Church Life Insurance Company and the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. In due course, recommendations will be made and the matter will be publicized and discussed fully before any final decision is made.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Pursuant to the provisions of the By-Laws, the 3-year terms of five directors expire each year. The election of the new directors will be held at the Annual Meeting of the Foundation on Wednesday, October 26, 1977. A petition nominating five directors has been presented to the Committee on Elections and the Convention has the right, under the Foundation's By-Laws, to nominate at least two persons for each director to be elected.

Respectfully submitted,

GEOFFREY STENGEL
Executive Vice-President

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION PROPOSED AT THE GENERAL CONVENTION OF 1976, AND TO BE FINALLY ACTED UPON AT THE CONVENTION OF 1979

I. THAT Section 2 of Article I of the Constitution be amended as hereinafter provided, and the same be made known to the several Dioceses and Missionary Dioceses and to the Convocation of the American Churches in Europe, in accordance with Article XI, in order that the same may be adopted at the next succeeding regular meeting of the General Convention:

THAT Section 2 of Article I of the Constitution be amended by adding at the beginning: "Every Bishop of this Church shall have a seat and voice in the House of Bishops"; and after "every Suffragan Bishop" insert: "every Assistant Bishop." Also, eliminate: "by reason of advanced age or bodily infirmity, or who". After "has resigned his jurisdiction" insert: "and has not retired", so that the Section 2 of Article of the Constitution will now read:

> Sec. 2. Every Bishop of this Church shall have seat and voice in the House of Bishops. Each Bishop of this Church having jurisdiction, every Bishop Coadjutor, every Suffragan Bishop, every Assistant Bishop, and every Bishop who, under an election to an office created by the General Convention, or for reasons of mission strategy determined by action of the General Convention or the House of Bishops, has resigned his jurisdiction, and has not retired, shall have a seat and a vote in the House of Bishops. A majority of all Bishops entitled to vote, exclusive of Bishops who have resigned their jurisdiction or positions, shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

II. THAT Section 4 of Article I of the Constitution be amended as hereinafter provided, and the same be made known to the several Dioceses and Missionary Dioceses and to the Convocation of the American Churches in Europe, in accordance with Article XI, in order that the same may be adopted at the next succeeding regular meeting of the General Convention:

THAT Section 4 of Article I of the Constitution be amended by eliminating the words "having domicile in the Diocese" and insert the words "in good standing in the Diocese but not necessarily domiciled in the Diocese"; so that Section 4 of Article I, as amended, will read:

> Sec. 4. The Church in each Diocese which has been admitted to union with the General Convention shall be entitled to representation in the House of Deputies by not more than four Presbyters, canonically resident in the Diocese, and not more than four Lay Persons, communicants of this Church, in good standing in the Diocese but not necessarily domiciled in the Diocese; but the General Convention by Canon may reduce the representation to not fewer than two Deputies in each order. Each Diocese shall prescribe the manner in which its Deputies shall be chosen.

III. THAT the Second Paragraph of Article VIII be amended as hereinafter provided, and the same be made known to the several Dioceses and Missionary Dioceses and to the Convocation of the American Churches in Europe, in accordance with Article XI, in order that the same may be adopted at the next succeeding regular meeting of the General Convention:

THAT the second paragraph ("declaration") be amended by striking the word "Protestant" after the words "Worship of the"; and by striking "in the United States of America" after "Church"; so that the second paragraph as amended, will read:

> "I do believe the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the Word of God, and to contain all things necessary to salvation; and I do solemnly engage to conform to the Doctrine, Discipline, and Worship of the Episcopal Church."

APPENDIX #6

RE-I-9

ANNUAL REPORT, 1977—DIOCESAN EPISCOPAL CHURCHWOMEN

May, 1977, brought to a close the three year term of Mrs. John Forrester as President of Diocesan Episcopal Churchwomen. I commend her Annual Report to you for careful reading. It is a witness unto itself of Bette's magnificent ministry to the Women of the Diocese, supported firmly by her entire Executive Committee.

As we continually rededicate our lives to service in the name of Christ our Lord, I would remind you of some of the on-going programs which we as Episcopal Churchwomen continually promote with great concern.

1. The Special Food Crisis Program to help alleviate hunger in the five county area of the Diocese.
2. Serving as custodians of United Thank Offering, promoting increased participation in loving gifts of thanksgiving via the Blue Box.
3. Sewing and knitting for those in need through the Dept. of World Services.
4. Concern for Foreign and Domestic Missions, Indians and Black Education through the Dept. of Missions. This includes a three year Special Overseas Project at Church of the Mediator, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.
5. An awareness of needs at all Diocesan Institutions and concern for any Lay Ministry programs within the Diocese.
6. Lea Hill Scholarship Fund—to aid women, at graduate level, training for Church or social work.
7. An undergirding program of Prayer & Worship to encourage increased practice of prayer and the spirit of worship.

This multiplicity of concerns serves as a link between each parish, the Diocese and the world. A full annual report by each Vice President may be found in the Diocesan Convention Journal. We also remind you that we are here in your office to serve you in His name.
And each day let us remember the Prayer of Self Dedication:

"Almighty and eternal God, so draw our hearts to Thee, so guide our minds, so fill our imaginations, so control our wills, that we may be wholly Thine, utterly dedicated unto Thee; and then use us, we pray Thee, as Thou wilt, and always to Thy glory and the welfare of Thy people; through our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Amen." (Proposed Book of Common Prayer, page 832.)

MRS. WILLIAM H. YARRINGTON, President

REPORT FROM THE PRESIDENT

MRS. JOHN W. FORRESTER — May 11, 1977

The psalmist's words "A thousand years in Thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past" come to mind as these words are being written.

The reports from the Vice-Presidents, who were elected by you to promote the work of the Episcopal Church Women of the Diocese, will reveal what seems like a thousand years, and actually did involve thousands of hours.

Each of the seven departments (Prayer and Worship, United Thank Offering, Finance, Missions, World Services, Diocesan Ministries, Promotion) performs a special task in undergirding the mission and ministry of the Church.

The Episcopal Church Women met in their National Triennial Meeting at the time of General Convention in Minnesota in September, 1976. Five delegates represented the Diocesan ECW. Also, many women visitors came from the Diocese to see and hear for themselves what the Episcopal Church is about.

During the Triennial/General Convention the ordination of women vote passed. It was a time of joy for some, sadness for others.

A continuing task was left for us who were elected to guide the Diocesan ECW. This task if to: (1) Affirm the ministry of All women, (2) Continue to seek and develop Leadership, (3) Form a Network of support for women as they move into New Leadership positions.

In affirming the ministry of All women, we should guard word usage in terms of "Traditional Women's Work". Each woman was given at least one gift at the time of her creation. Her responsibility is to use that gift as her ministry in carrying out the mission of the Church. Knitters, sewers, nurses, bakers, fund raisers, clergywomen, committee members, secretaries, and so on are needed to minister to all of humankind.

The Diocesan ECW adopted "The body is one" (I Corinthians 12-12:27) and used it for the focus of the ECW Executive Committee's Overnight Leadership Training and Evaluation Session.

Sharing some highlights of the President's activities the past calendar year may be of interest to you. (These items are in addition to parish/Deanery visits/speaking engagements/administrative routine.)

June 1976— *Honored at "Salute to Women" at the opening of the Afro-American Historical/Cultural Museum.

July— *Triennial Program Planning Committee in New York (Province III Representative).

August— *Represented Diocesan ECW by participating in "Foot Washing Ceremony" at 41st International Eucharistic Congress in Philadelphia.

September— *Triennial Meeting of The Women of the Church, Minnesota four other delegates.

October— *Reported for ECW at Diocesan Convention, Philadelphia.

November— *Represented Diocesan ECW at ECW Provincial Board Meeting College of Preachers, Washington.

December— *ECW Bicentennial Luncheon/Quilt "Give-away" at the Hilton Hotel.

January 1977—*Led Diocesan delegation to Conference on the Ministry of (ALL) Women in St. Louis.

February— *Participated in the Urban Theology Unit Institute with Clergymen to gain theological perspective on the urban situation.

March— *New York to General Seminary with Commission on Ministry—Special Emphasis: National Institute for Lay Training.
*Overnight ECW Executive Committee Leadership Training/Evaluation (served as Volunteer Consultant).

April— *ECW Diocesan "Wake Up Your Parish" Experiential Program Planning Day at Krisheim Study Center.
*Attended "Partners in Mission" Consultation of Province III in Virginia.
*"Catch the Spirit" Diocesan Day at Episcopal Academy.

The Diocesan ECW President has been a full participant in the Diocese. The Bishop's weekly Cabinet Meetings have given strong support to our work. The weekly SUWERS breakfasts have kept us aware of the needs and concerns of our Diocesan Communities—secular and ecumenical. We, also, participated in Diocesan Council Meetings.

So—A voyage was started on May 14, 1974. Today, The Ministry/Mission Oriented Ship "The Episcopal Churchwomen" has completed another three year voyage. Time has come to change "Captains" again.

We welcome Mrs. William Yarrington, the newly elected Diocesan President, who will be "Captain" for the next three years. Bon Voyage, Elouise!!

In closing, Thanks Be to God and to each of you for your Faith, Love and Support!!

Respectfully Submitted,

ELIZABETH J. FORRESTER
President

APPENDIX #7

RE-I-14

To: The Diocese of Pennsylvania
From: George H. Soule, Administrative Assistant for Clergy Deployment
Subject: Clergy Deployment, October 1976–October 1977

At the 193rd Diocesan Convention in October, 1976, I reported a total of seven vacancies in the Diocese—full-time positions for senior parish clergy, i.e. rectors or vicars.

Up to October 17, 1977, an additional 14 such openings occurred for a total of 21 in the 12-month period.

As of October 17, 11 have been filled, leaving 10 still vacant. Of those already filled, 2 have gone from full-time to part-time, and it looks as though this will be the case with 2 of those still open. One has gone from part-time to full-time. One of those filled is only a temporary situation until permanent arrangements can be worked out next summer.

Of the 8 people moving unto permanent full-time senior positions, 4 have come from within the Diocese, and 4 have come from canonical residence elsewhere. All of the part-time and temporary positions have been filled from within the Diocese.

In addition, 5 other part-time positions for senior parish clergy have come vacant or soon will be and 2 of these have been filled, at least temporarily, by people from within the Diocese. There are still 5 part-time senior parish positions open for permanent assignment.

There has also been a good deal of movement among curates, assistants and interns. A total of 9 such full-time positions have been filled in the past 12 months, 6 by people canonically resident here, and 3 by people from other Dioceses. Of these, 4 are new positions since last Convention, and 2 have been filled by women. Another 2 part-time curacies and assistantships have been filled, 1 man from within the Diocese, and 1 woman from outside.

We still have openings for 3 full-time curates or assistants and 6 part-time.

These figures show that we have added a total of 13 active clergy to our Diocesan rolls, either through ordinations or through transfers into the Diocese. Meanwhile, we have lost a total of 33 active clergy through letters dismissory, employment outside the Diocese or outside the Church, retirement, and death, for a net reduction of 20 active clergy.

At the present time, we have 10 non-retired clergy who are unemployed or incompletely employed, including 4 who are canonically resident in other Dioceses and have chosen to live here and take their chances on finding remunerative work. Unemployed clergy of course get first priority for supply work and temporary assignments.

We are exploring creative new kinds of ministry and combinations of positions in order to maintain good stewardship of all ordained people.

Fortunately we have been able to stay close to an equilibrium between the number of active clergy and the number of jobs. We still have the perennial problem of fitting square pegs in square holes. Wherever possible we are urging clergy to develop and maintain alternate means of making a living, because once a Church job comes to an end, whatever the reason, it may take a long time to become fully employed again.

APPENDIX #8

THE RT. REV. LYMAN C. OGILBY

THE WORD PROCLAIMED:
THE WORD DONE

1 Corinthians 1 : 18-24

John 12 : 23-33

I. The Crossing of the River and the Cross

An old Borneo tribal legend about a little mouse-deer and the crocodiles: One morning mouse-deer wanted to get across the river, but he could not because the water was too high, the river was too wide, and there were no bridges. At last he saw a crocodile. "Hello crocodile," said the little mouse-deer. "How sad it is there are so few crocodiles with you in the river." "Don't be foolish," said the crocodile. "There are many of us here." "Oh," said mouse-deer. "Show me. Bring them here so that I may count them." "All right," said the crocodile. "I'll get them and bring them to you." And he swam away to gather his friends and relatives. They came back to the place where mouse-deer was waiting. "Hmm," said mouse-deer. "I can't count you all while you are swimming about. Please make yourselves into a straight line from here across to the other side of the river." The crocodiles did just that. "Now I'm ready to begin counting you," called mouse-deer. And he began to count the crocodiles, and as he did so he jumped from one to the next. And he went on jumping and counting until he got across to the other side of the river. And he called out, "I don't care how many crocodiles there are. I only wanted to get across the river, and thank you very much for helping me."

Like the mouse-deer, we want to cross the river of this convention, doing what God expects of us, not being stopped or consumed, but helped by the crocodiles and our own crocodile-ness. God mandates that we move ahead with His mission, no matter how crocodile-like we are.

We preach a crucified Christ; the Christ who is the power and wisdom of God. And this Christ says, "If anyone serves me, he must follow me." I know this Christ who loves and redeems me, and gives me the power to follow Him. This is the word I proclaim; this, by His grace, is what I do. Hear that, because that is God's word to you and me NOW. It is good news.

Again we gather in annual convention. We, the people of God, the clergy and representative lay persons of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, are called together by God to do what Christians always need to do: to worship and pray, to discern what God expects of us today and what we expect of one another, to be renewed in God's love, grace, and truth, and to discuss and to determine the best ways and means of bringing this love, grace, and truth to us and others. That, of course, is a tall order, but the following of the Lord of the cross is never easy.

II. The Mission of the Cross

The mission of the people of God, the church at every level — local, deanery, diocesan, national, international — is none other than the carrying on of the mission of Christ Himself. "As the Father has sent me, even so I send you." It would be irresponsible of us to attempt to sum up Christ's mission in a simple formula. Recall the great variety of language utilized just in the New Testament to describe this mission. We begin with one of our Lord's own account of it: "The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He has anointed me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives, and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed, to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord." The record in the four gospels shows us how this mandate was carried forward, and the various apostolic writers give us their summaries and interpretations of it. He was sent to do God's will. God in Jesus Christ was sent and He came. He came to make the Father's name known. He came to manifest and establish the righteousness of God. He came that men might believe, and be justified. He came that they might have peace with God. He came to reconcile the world to God. He came that men might have life. He came to seek and save the lost. He came not to be served but to serve and to give His life a ransom for many. All these phrases represent only a small selection of the relevant language of the New Testament, and they may serve to remind us of the dimensions of the mission with which He entrusted the Church, He entrusted us.

But this mission is not simply entrusted to the Church as a human institution or corporation, because the Church is the Body of Christ. It is the continuing work of Christ Himself through the Holy Spirit. Because the Father has exalted Him to His right hand and given Him all authority over all powers in heaven and earth, therefore He has poured forth among men and women the gift of the Holy Spirit — the same spirit by whose anointing the works of the incarnate Christ Himself were done. It is the Holy Spirit Himself who is the agent of the mission. When the risen Lord says to His disciples, "As the Father has sent me, so I send you," He immediately adds, "Receive the Holy Spirit." When He speaks beforehand of the mission, it is in these terms: "When the counselor comes, whom I shall send to you from the Father, even the spirit of truth who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness to me; and you also are witnesses." And later He tells them that they will be enabled to bear witness to the end of the earth only when they have been empowered by the spirit. The Church participates in the mission only by virtue of its participation in the Holy Spirit. There is the general directive: The Gospel must be preached to the farthest corner of the earth at once and without waiting. This, of course, does not mean, however, that there is no visible unity about the mission. On the contrary, there is a deep sense of mutual responsibility, partnership, and brotherhood, of the obligation resting upon the church in one place to bear the burdens of others, and of the need to proceed loving, learning from, and trusting one another.

III. The Gospel of Concern and Service

Our basic understanding of the Church as the community of the Holy Spirit and its participation in mission can be simply stated: Thought must accompany action, action thought. Head and feet must think and walk together. We must forever be testing ideas, concepts, and principles, not by speculation alone but by actual doing, by practical application, by praxis. The problem is not usually with the ideas or the concepts themselves. We have no dearth of great, splendid ideas; but the problem is with the testing, and our capability to learn from the testing. Our concern and occupation must be with gospel ideas, principles, and concepts that live, gospel truths that move, ideas with feet. The life and the movement, the head and the feet; and we, you and I, provide that. Dietrich Bonhoeffer puts it: "We only know what we do." That is what praxis means. The Word proclaimed and validated. When we take the Gospel of Jesus Christ as our yardstick for measuring the human condition, we cannot, if we are to call ourselves Christians, remain clinically abstracted from what is happening to the human family at this very moment; we cannot be uninvolved, oblivious to issues confronting mankind here close at hand and in other parts of the world. The gospel of concern and service that Christ preached and acted out will not allow it.

What direction should our praxis take, if we are to be faithful to the One who came contending against evil and making no peace with oppression? Regard the world in which we are placed and for which we bear responsibility. The world is called Philadelphia, Chester, Norristown, Conshohocken, Coatesville, Pottstown, Bristol, and the neighboring towns and bordering communities. Mark the human condition and the quality of life therein. Hear the cries of despair, see the tears of pain, smell the decay of death. Unemployment, economic exploitation, lack of public services, under-utilization of people, the breakdown of community and family, child abuse, racism, sexism — the growing moral and spiritual illness in our society and the continuing erosion of human rights. We, the Body of Christ, who glory in the mystery of our redemption, have been given grace to take up our cross and follow Him into this world. What opportunities we have for Christian ministry and service, for incarnating His love and hope, His truth and justice, for applying our faith, for Christian praxis!

IV. The Gospel Applied: Christian Praxis

In the area of the human condition and human rights, the role of the Church has four principal functions: 1) announcing Gospel mandates that must guide thought and action in striving for the universal good of the people; 2) denouncing, in the light of those same mandates, acts that militate against the peoples' good; 3) initiating action for that good, like any responsible sector of society, especially when action is not being taken by those who should act; and finally, 4) supporting initiatives of the people for their common good when these are in fact taken and are in accord with the Gospel.

Let us take these four principal functions of Christian praxis and illustrate by several specific examples here in the Diocese of Pennsylvania how the proclaimed Word is done.

1) Announcing Gospel mandates that must guide thought and action in striving for the universal good of the people. Despite the resurgence of the public demand for the reinstatement of the death penalty, we, being followers of the redeeming Christ, must say "no" to capital punishment and "yes" to all efforts to reform and humanize the judicial system and the just and redemptive enforcement of law and order. Again, we announce a Gospel of concern and service for all people and yet we do so little for the blind, the deaf, and fastest growing segment of our population, the Hispanic people. We do note with appreciation the developing Hispanic ministry at Christ Church and St. Ambrose in Kensington and at St. Paul's Church in Chester.

2) Denouncing, in the light of those same mandates, acts that militate against the peoples' good. Some Christians here in Philadelphia, deeply disturbed by the recent alleged acts of police brutality, have twice approached and conferred with the Mayor of this city; and have also personally presented their concerns to the office of the Attorney General in Washington, communicating their support of the current federal investigations. Also, along with other Christian leaders in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we are moving against pornography, which is one symptom of all the ways in which we do violence to each other.

3) Initiating action for that good, like any responsible sector of society, especially when action is not being taken by those who should act. The lack of housing and the continued decaying of existing housing stock, particularly in the cities of the five county area, dictate that we continue to support the endeavors of the Advocate Community Development Corporation, which provides decent homes for low income families. Also, specific plans are currently being made, with regard to the housing needs of senior citizens, to provide facilities for lower income people who do not choose or cannot afford to take advantage of the attractive units provided by Cathedral Village in Roxborough. An important footnote: I have been asked by a joint committee representative of Cathedral Village, the Leamy Home, the Houston Foundation, the Cathedral Chapter, and St. Mary's congregation to initiate immediately a feasibility study of a retirement community designed for low income people. This would be an extension of our experience with Cathedral Village and in accord with our ministry to older people. I gladly accept this request and will move forward to set this feasibility study in motion and will ask the Cathedral Chapter at its November 30 meeting to offer some funds for this study. Furthermore, we heartily commend the congregations who have pledged part of their property for support of bail funds, who are developing new ways to exercise lay ministry, who support Meals-on-Wheels programs and Alcoholics Anonymous and Al-Anon groups.

4) Supporting initiatives of the people for their common good when these are in fact taken and are in accord with the Gospel. In the areas of ministries to youth and higher education, as well as all the current endeavors in ecumenical dialogue and common Christian action, we note that our support of these initiatives has been sparse, irregular, and inadequate. But we are cheered by the witness of many young people who responded to the recent Johnstown flood by serving with clean-up crews and others who are supporting the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief by bike-a-thons and soccer marathons.

V. The Gospel Ventured

From my eighteen years of missionary experience in the Philippines and three in South Dakota, I underscore the truth that what I have said about Christian praxis here in the Diocese of Pennsylvania applies to the total human family, near and far. Our world is interrelated, interdependent, interlocking — multinational and global. Every man is our brother, each woman is our sister. We are called to be partners in life; and, as followers of Christ, partners in mission, venturers in mission, serving the hungry, the poor, and the oppressed. When the Lord of the cross asks us, "Do you love me?", what is our answer? I am sure that a partial answer to the Lord's question will be found in our positive response to the developing missionary campaign, Venture in Mission. The Episcopal Church, at every level and in all its locations — congregational, diocesan, national, overseas — is called to look at itself and its resources and the many opportunities and challenges for missionary service in a world crying out for the redemptive love of the crucified Christ. Specific plans, programs, and projects are currently being developed, and ways and means for responsible implementation are being formed. I summon this diocese and all its integral parts to active, knowledgeable, concerned participation in this cause, Christ's cause, venturing in His mission.

VI. Back on the Bank of the River

We can be, or display the nature of, crocodiles, thwarting and even devouring mouse-deer. But we have been created to be a very, very special kind of mouse-deer. We have been created in the image of God, men and women, who can preach Christ crucified and who, by God's grace, can follow Him, the One lifted high upon the cross that He might draw the whole world to Himself.

APPENDIX #9

The Rt. Rev. John T. Walker

Address to Diocese of Pennsylvania Convention

October 21, 1977 (Philadelphia, Pa.)

It is a very great pleasure to be here with you this evening; to have a small share in this portion of the Body of Christ; to share with you my sense of our common mission. It is a pleasure, also because many of us have already served the Church together in many ways at national and provincial gatherings. It is finally a pleasure because whenever the Church gathers we find joy in serving Him because we serve the world that He has given to us.

This great Church of which we are a part is in turmoil just now and we seem determined to drive ourselves apart. Just before separating so far that we cannot come back together, let us pause and ask ourselves what we are doing, not so much to ourselves but to the Body itself and outside that to those whom we are called to serve — those who live in darkness and in the shadow of death; those, if you will, who live without hope. Our Lord cautioned us — nay warned us — not to mislead or hurt one of these little ones — those who are children in the faith, those who look to His church for unity, for peace, for the spirit of love.

My concern here is not abstract, it is not about preserving tradition or about holding on to my perception of truth, rather it is about the mission of Christ which we are called to carry forward. To what extent can a broken, divided, unloving church bear witness to wholeness, to unity, to love? How can we draw all people unto him if we have lost the power of the Spirit by which alone we are able to fulfill his mission. In order to get at some answers to these questions let me explore for a moment our mission.

Bishop Ogilby has already explored the meaning of mission as it is mandated in Scripture. He has already indicated that the mission is not a simple formula and I would reiterate the truth of that statement. Let us take one phrase from the formula of Isaiah. What does it mean to say "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me . . . because he has sent me to set at liberty those who are oppressed." We could look at this in a variety of ways. We could say for example, that most of the people who inhabit our urban areas are oppressed by such factors as poor housing, unsanitary living conditions, crime, economic instability, drugs, and, if these are not enough, we could cite unemployment levels as high as 34%. As a corollary, if not in a direct causal relationship, are such other factors as racial and ethnic discrimination, poor education, inability to develop skills and on and on and on.

Question: How does the mission of the Church address these massive and apparently insoluable problems? How does it proclaim the message of hope in such a setting? Well, it could begin by denouncing. There is really no excuse for any nation that is even moderately endowed with natural resources and technological know-how, to permit such conditions as exist in such cities as Detroit, Newark, Chicago, New York, and I suspect even Philadelphia. Part of our problem is greed and the Church has always been in the business of denouncing greed. But denunciation is not enough. We dare not salve our consciences by mere denunciation of a problem of which we are so clearly a part. What action can we take? To this there is no simple answer but if we unite our efforts to others in the community we may be able to find answers. The Church must, in that regard, come out of its political closet and use its influence in public hearings, in lobbying efforts and the like so that it might be an effective friend of the Court for those who are often maimed by the systems and institutions we have built.

The Church has long been an advocate of good education systems and yet too often we church people are reluctant to run for election to boards of education or, if we do, we see no relationship between our Christian commitment and our responsibility as citizens to help provide for those who need good education the most.

These are all matters that concern us all. We have an interest in what happens in our urban communities. And yet we do find some of our people who live in rural areas who are jealous of the time and attention given to the cities.

But it is not alone in the cities of America where the mission is tested. Our concern for evangelism has given us an interest and concern beyond our own borders. Our people daily ask what about our overseas concerns? Now, I confess that often in our lives we have seen our people take an overactive interest in what is happening to the poor unchristian souls in the far flung fields of missionary activity as a substitute for dealing with those at home who suffer similar deprivations. Many of us remember in the very recent past how much energy was expended in fighting national Church programs that provided aid for ethnic minorities and black Americans and how much energy the same people expended to raise money for similar people who lived in the homelands of Latin America, Africa and the Orient.

Whatever our past history and it has been generally positive, our mission to God's people in far off places is as important as our mission at home. But how effective are we being in marshalling our resources for that vital work? As I move about the country I am often impressed by the desire of Church people to get on with the major work that our Lord is calling us to do. They are frustrated because a relatively small group of our people seem able to quite successfully keep our time, attention and resources focused on internal matters relating to ministry and Prayer Book. Please do not misunderstand me. I do not mean to suggest that the ordination of women and the preparation of a new prayer book are not important, they are — terribly so. But until recently, I thought the first was settled once and for all at Minneapolis and that the second was halfway there.

The frustration that some are faced with is this — we have spent millions of dollars lobbying for or against the above but this Church — this rather affluent

Church — is not able to raise more than 12 million dollars for an annual budget at the national and international level. I submit to you that the total mission of the Church is affected by our division and our inability to turn our attention to the primary mandates of our Lord.

We are mandated by our Lord to go into all the world; to set at liberty the oppressed and while we bicker over what I believe to be secondary issues the Church, in both Uganda and in South Africa, is involved in a life and death struggle to survive. It is a struggle not unlike the martyrdoms of the early Church. If they take seriously our Lord's mandate — and by and for the oppressed — those valiant Christians may well be destroyed. While we debate whether women can be part of the ordained ministry of Christ, the Church in Uganda continues to be among the fastest growing churches in Christendom precisely because it is prepared to put its life on the line for Christ. Twice in the one hundred year period just past and including the present moment, the Church in Uganda has experienced a deadly persecution. It has produced saints in the past — it is producing them today. Whenever the Church acts as the body of Christ discerning the truth, preaching the gospel of love to the poor and the enslaved it places itself in the martyrs stance. The Church of Uganda is there now and we would do well to support that stance.

In much the same way the Anglican Church in South Africa seems a lone voice in opposing the dreadful policies of the apartheid government. Prime Minister Vorster is determined to stamp out the black majority and in so doing he will, as assuredly, destroy the Church, or perhaps as Amin has done in Uganda, he will without meaning to strengthen it by providing it with saints and martyrs. There are moments when our Church seems hardly aware of our sister churches in the world and the desperate cry for help that they send our way daily. Just as you have given so generously to the Church of Uganda and its exiled Bishops we need to give moral and economic support to both Uganda and South Africa. We need to encourage the stance of our government on human rights and to take whatever actions are necessary, short of war, to assist our Christian brothers and sisters in those enslaved countries.

It is not safe to assume that all of our problems would disappear if only we were facing a period of martyrdom. We are not. The real difference between our Church and the Church in Uganda is this. We want to be the Catholic Church but we are in danger of ending as a sect. The Church of Uganda is larger than the Church in the USA. It has nearly four million members out of a total population of twelve million and a total Christian population of between seven and eight million. In a period of twelve years the total population has almost doubled and the Christian population more than doubled. We cannot duplicate the Uganda experience but we can grow if we get on with the job of evangelism if we can give up the luxury of our internal social clan attitude. The arguments in which we have engaged over an eight year period are those of an exclusive Church, not a Catholic one. We seem determined to prove that we can by looking inward carry out the mandate of Christ without looking at the world. Of course we fool ourselves. Our Lord's life, death and resurrection were to enlarge our vision and to call us to the service of humanity. But there is one other matter that we need to explore, the role of the individual person.

If we focus overlong on massive problems we become depressed and lose sight of persons. As Christians our frustration becomes marked and we tend to turn inward when we don't know what to do. Let us not suppose that we can solve every problem — we can't. And let us not allow guilt to cloud our vision of what can be. Let us suffer under guilt for not doing what we can do. We have a job to do with individuals. The vision and the horizons of our people need to be broadened and deepened. We too often see the world in narrow terms. We measure the truth by our limited understanding of our Lord and the love for us that led him to the Cross.

We began with the observation that the Church is in turmoil and that is certainly true. In that turmoil we have turned inward and have begun to attack each other as though any one person had a corner on the truth market. Do you disagree with my perception of truth — then you're at best heretic, at worst apostate. We become self-righteous and condemn all others to purgatory or outer darkness. Thus divided on secondary truth we lost sight of the primary truth that is central to our salvation. Thus divided we fall and the mission fails. Thus divided we weaken our witness and the sound of our trumpet flutters to a stop and none can follow.

In the years ahead it may be said of us that we destroy ourselves by the arrogant assertion that our perception of truth was the only one that mattered. We have acted as though our notion of ministry or of liturgy and Prayer Book was central to our salvation. Neither of these is correct. Our salvation rests on the belief that Jesus Christ is Lord; that when we turned away from God and fell into sin and death God sent his only son to die for our sins and raise him up to guarantee our salvation and eternal life. All else belongs to the frailty of fallen humanity and needs constant redemption. The truth is revealed in Jesus the Christ and while we are unable to know or understand that truth perfectly if we wait on the spirit the truth will continuously be revealed to us and when it is — far from condemning those who hold a differing view, we will pray that the Holy Spirit will broaden their view so that his ministry, his priesthood is not circumscribed and all of us together working for his mission can become what God has made us — heirs with Christ of the everlasting kingdom. And as such we may draw all people unto Him whom we call Lord. For thus he prayed "that they might be one that the world might believe on Him who sent me."

Make us masters, O Lord, of ourselves so that we may be servants of others. Take our thoughts and think through them. Take our lips and speak through them. And take our hearts and set them on fire for you.

You have to forgive me because I haven't yet learned the difference between speaking and preaching. More than thirty years ago, I was sitting in a small congregation in the A.M.E. Zion Church in Norwood, North Carolina during the 11 o'clock service. And something happened in that service that morning for me to experience what John Wesley experienced on a ship. And he said that his heart was strangely warm. That morning, my heart was strangely warm and I stood up on the floor in that church. Something just pushed me right up and I went forward. I said to the minister that I wanted to become a member of this Church, because I have met the Master here this morning. He said to me, like we say so often in the Episcopal Church, well, that's great but confirmation class is in August. But in spite of the clergy, I didn't let him turn me around or stop me. And I persisted. And ever since that day wherever I can, wherever I may be, I must tell the story.

There are so many things running through my mind this morning as I stand here in this historic city of Philadelphia. I think about the signing of the Declaration of Independence here. And I'm still working on my "Declaration of Independence." Have mercy. This is a city so important in so many ways. It's a city where really the black church had its beginning with Richard Allen. It's so meaningful to us as Black Episcopalians that this is the Mother City of our church. But more than that, it's a great day to be alive as I look out and see the beautiful sun and I have to say that surely this is the day which the Lord has made, let us rejoice and be glad in it. Also to be here in this great company of the Diocesan Convention and to be surrounded with so many of my friends who love and care for me. And for this I am eternally grateful.

Allow me first of all to thank Bishop Ogilby, and Bishop Mosley, and whoever else was responsible for extending me the invitation to be with you and to speak on the occasion of the 194th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania. I am highly honored to have been included in the line-up of speakers with my bishop, the Right Reverend John T. Walker. When I learned that Bishop Walker would be speaking at this convention also, I was for a moment speechless, knowing the reputation of Bishop Walker as a speaker and as a preacher. But for those of you who know me, you know that I don't remain speechless for very long. Again I thank you for including me in your life, your worship, your work, and your fellowship. Some of you already know that I am a member of the Episcopal Church Center staff in New York City, with a job title of Coordinator for Black Ministries. I also serve as a link between the Episcopal Church Center in New York and the Diocese of Pennsylvania. In other words, I am your man at 815. If, in your work, you decide that we at the Church Center can be helpful to you, or put you in touch with a variety of resources to assist you in your work, you may contact me directly or through the office of the Bishop.

I have been asked to outline and speak to you briefly about my work — black ministries. My office is one of four offices which works primarily in the area of ethnic ministries. The others being Asian-American, native Americans, and Hispanics. And when I mention the words "Black ministries" in many quarters of the church, a puzzled look appears on the faces of many, both black and white, as to what are black ministries. Is this some kind of separate group in the church? Well, let me say at the outset that I did not create the words 'black ministries' or the particular function of that office. The Anglican-Episcopal church created and promoted this way of doing mission and ministry among black people long before you or I was born. The first Africans baptized on American soil took place in 1623 in Jamestown, Virginia. It was a family, Anthony, Isabel, and William, their son. Following these baptisms, there arose a controversy in the colonies between the plantation owners and the church as to whether baptism altered the civil conditions of the slaves. The question was did baptism, indeed, set one free. Finally this matter was referred to the Bishop of London, under whose jurisdiction the colonies came for a decision. And the bishop's decision was this. He wrote: "Christianity and the embracing of the Gospel does not make the least alteration in civil property or in any other duties which belong to the civil relations. But in all of these respects, it continues persons just in the same state as it found them. The freedom which Christianity gives is a freedom from the bondage of sin and of Satan and from the dominion of men's lust and passions and inordinate desires. But as to their outward conditions, whatever that was before, whether bond or free, their being baptized and becoming Christians makes no manner of change in it. And so far as Christianity from discharging men from the duties of the stations and condition in which it found them, it lays them under stronger obligation to perform these duties with the greatest diligence and fidelity."

This decision set in motion a floodgate of evil practices in the Church and society. It watered down and compromised the faith. It gave its consent to the continuation of slavery in a Christian environment. It was the forerunner of the separate but equal doctrine. It prepared the way so that the spiritual could be separated from the mundane. It opened the doors for the slave-owners and their heirs to do the slaves in from Monday through Saturday — as long as they abstained on Sunday during the 11 o'clock service. Black ministries hence had its origination in this kind of racist theology and practice. Black folks have been forced to conclude that if we cannot be equal partners in the mission and ministry of the church, then we will do it separately, but always confronting the church to take the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, seriously. We are meeting here today in a so-called integrated convention, but as you leave here this evening and return to your parishes for morning worship tomorrow, Sunday morning will still be the most segregated hour in America.

So what are black ministries? Black ministries are those ministries which respond to the needs, the hurts, and conditions of black people in this church and in this society. Following the example of our Lord when he stood up in the temple and read: The spirit of the Lord God is upon me because He has anointed me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives and the receiving of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed and to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord. We, who are involved in the Commission for Black Ministries in the Episcopal Church, attempt to carry out our mission and ministry in the following way. One, the Commission for Black Ministry sees itself as an advocate for the concerns of black Episcopalians in this church: to represent and serve as advocates for black Episcopalians on the national, diocesan, and local levels of the church and to make input into the decision-making process, programatic development, and the total life of the church. We do this by initiating and supporting programs and activities in response to the needs and concerns of black Episcopalians. One of the things that we felt that needed developing was church school literature that would speak to the black situation in America. And I'm proud to say that it was right here in this diocese the program got off the ground and was initiated and executed by the people in this place. We hold a number of conferences. I'm going to run through this quickly. We initiate and support a number of conferences around the country where black Episcopalians can come together and talk about their concern for mission and for ministry. One of the conferences we held recently was in Washington, D.C. at the College of Preachers. This conference was titled 'Black and Anglican Tradition — How can they co-exist?' This was one of the best conferences that I have ever attended. A lot of warmth, a lot of love, a lot of sharing, and a lot of facing up to the concerns facing our church and our community. I want to point out the fact that one of the jobs that I strive to accomplish in my office, in my work, is that I try to get black Episcopalians to get on with the business of offering their unique gifts as blacks to the Episcopal church. For far too long, as we come into this church, we felt that somehow or other we ought to check all of our blackness at the door — leave it behind. In my estimation, that's a sin. God didn't create me to be white but He created me black. And that I have a unique gift and gifts to offer to His church. We ought to get on with the business of making this offering. It's hard sometimes to get this over. I just think of one thing. It seems that all the blacks in the Episcopal church somehow or other left all of our music behind and we haven't brought any into the Episcopal church and shared it with you. I think that's a sin. Nothing moves me more when I'm despondent than to think of one of the spirituals, and hum it or sing it. One that I think about this morning as I speak here is called 'Tell Me How Did You Feel When You Came Out of the Wilderness.' It goes on that I felt like shouting or I felt like praying or I felt like loving when I came out of the wilderness. Another area in which we are working very hard as the Commission for Black Ministries is in the whole area of congregational development. We try to put all the resources that we can muster into black congregations to strengthen and develop them and support them so that they can get on with the business of doing God's mission and His ministry in His world. Far too long have we as black Episcopalians been satisfied with being dependent congregations and taking welfare from the diocese or wherever. It's time to cut out all that foolishness. If we're going to be jumping up all over the place talking about freedom now and all that stuff, we're going to have to talk about responsibility now, too. And we have to go down in our pockets and give, not until we feel it, but give until we can't feel it. I know I'm not getting many 'Amens.' Now the brother up here who was talking about stewardship, was right on, he was right on target. I'm personally committed to developing strong healthy and viable black congregations in the dioceses all across the nation so that they can really give, work and pray for the mission and ministry of this Church. And we have to do that. We can only do that if we are healthy. I do a number of other things. I assist in the development of clergy, help congregations with vacancy consultations, and I must say that I haven't been without requests from the Diocese of Pennsylvania. You work me. We also serve as a resource, a clearing house, for putting people in touch with resources across the country. We have a small granting capacity to assist churches in doing their mission and ministry. We also involve ourselves with other black churchmen not of this denomination but other denominations because as black we are all in this together and it doesn't matter really whether you're an Episcopalian or Baptist or what have you. We've got to work this thing out together, and not let denominations separate us. And finally, as I was reading the recent pastoral letter that came out of the House of Bishops, there was one phrase in there which caught my attention. And it said: "We believe that the great times in the church are not just in the past, but now." We believe that the great times in the church are not just in the past, but they are now. It's a great time to be alive. It is a great day in the church. And I would, to God, that we would seize upon this time and this opportunity — this is the only one you have — to work and pray for the bringing in of God's kingdom here on earth. I thank you.

STEWARDSHIP EDUCATION

Excerpts from "Diocesan News"
March 1977

STEWARDSHIP: MORE THAN MONEY

Stewardship—an interesting word not fully understood. To some, stewardship is raising money to meet next year's budget. To others, stewardship connotes an intensely spiritual experience, a critical element in a person's relationship with our Lord Jesus Christ.

Fourteen clergy and lay people in the diocese are now helping congregations understand the meaning of stewardship. These stewardship advisors are available to assist rectors and vestries in the upgrading of every member canvasses from unimaginative pledge card retrieval campaigns to stimulating stewardship education programs and the by-product—not the principal objective—of a stewardship education program is "more money." In the two pilot congregations where the program was completed last fall, St. Luke's, Germantown, and St. Mark's, Philadelphia, pledging increased over 40%.

Congregations participating in the stewardship education program can expect such benefits as new leadership emerging, motivation toward new goals, increased participation in worship life of the congregation, and, in general, a "success experience."

Congregations interested in exploring the possibility of conducting this program should call the coordinator of the stewardship consultants in the diocese, John C. Rettew, at Church House. Inquiries should be made as soon as possible as many programs have already been scheduled for this spring and fall.

STEWARDSHIP TRAINING PROGRAM UNDERWAY

September 1977

"Money is perhaps the most important thing in my life. The way I use my money reflects the depth of my commitment to Jesus Christ."

These thoughts were offered by the Rev. John G. Martin from Birmingham, Ala., while leading a three-day seminar on stewardship education at the end of June. Ten people from this Diocese participated in the seminar and will be leading stewardship education programs in Pennsylvania congregations in the coming months.

The purpose of stewardship education is to enable people to develop a closer relationship with Jesus Christ by examining the theological and biblical dimensions of stewardship. The giving of money is an important component of this process and the program concludes with an every member canvass. Since September, 1976, nine congregations in this Diocese have completed the program with very encouraging results.

Congregations wanting to have a stewardship consultant visit them and conduct an exploratory meeting on this program should call the coordinator, the Rev. Carl W. Bell at PE 5-5195.

RE-I-4

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE AND PROPERTY RE: GROUP MEDICAL AND LIFE INSURANCE

Presently in our Diocese, almost all the Clergy and a number of lay people are covered by a comprehensive medical and life insurance program underwritten by the Church Life Insurance Company and Liberty Mutual.

Since 1973, the premiums for the medical coverage have risen 99.8%. During 1977, the premium a congregation had to pay for its clergy covered under a family contract was $1,560, or $130 per month. Officials of a number of congregations have objected to this high cost and have asked if there is not some better alternative available.

The Committee on Finance and Property has initiated a study of the alternatives. The insurance firm of Alexander and Alexander has been engaged to provide professional guidance. An ad hoc advisory committee of Episcopal insurance people under the leadership of Geoffrey Stengel, Executive Vice President of The Church Foundation, is also working on the matter.

The study should be complete this Fall. It is entirely possible that it will lead to a conclusion that our present coverage (and cost) are about the best we can do. If, however, consideration of a change appears indicated, the Committee on Finance and Property will widely publicize throughout the Diocese the recommendations forthcoming from the study. In addition, an open meeting will be conducted so that the recommendations can be fully explained and evaluated. No final decision will be made until after these steps have been taken.

The purpose of this report is simply to bring you up to date on this subject. The Committee wants to make the right decision and recognizes that hundreds of people in our Diocese will be affected. Hence, once the recommendations are forthcoming, we urge you to communicate your opinions either through the open meeting, or to me personally.

RE-I-3

REPORT OF THE CATHEDRAL CHAPTER

Canon 18.12 reads as follows:

> The Chapter shall submit to the Convention of the Diocese an annual report, which shall summarize the work of the Cathedral during the preceding year. . . .

The report of the Cathedral Chapter for the past twelve months is virtually synonymous with the progress of Cathedral Village, the 260 unit retirement community and medical facility on the grounds of St. Mary's-at-the-Cathedral in the Roxborough section of Philadelphia.

Construction of Cathedral Village is expected to begin this winter. A financial commitment from a lending institution is expected momentarily.

The Chapter has entered into a formal agreement with Cathedral Village, the Leamy Home, and the Houston Foundation (Druim Moir). This agreement specifies the respective rights and responsibilities of these cooperating organizations. It sets forth how Druim Moir and the Leamy Home will be integrated into Cathedral Village.

The Chapter's role in the development of Cathedral Village has been two-fold: (1) the supplying of people from the Chapter to the new Cathedral Village organization, and (2) the lending of working capital needed to launch this project.

From the sale of the land to Cathedral Village, the Chapter will derive $767,000 in principal over a fifteen year period. The Chapter—under the supervision of the Orphans' Court—has the responsibility of determining how its funds will be used. The Chapter is firmly committed to the support of projects consistent with the program and ministry of the Diocese of Pennsylvania and this may include the construction of a retirement facility for low income people.

RE-I-1

THE FAIRMOUNT TEAM MINISTRY
REPORT TO 194th CONVENTION, DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA

In December 1975, representatives from the five Team churches approved a three year plan to develop the Fairmount Team Ministry into a stronger, more cohesive body. The first two phases of that program have been accomplished, with a few changes in emphasis. We have developed into a body with monthly Team Council meetings that assume more and more responsibility for Team decision making. The lay and clerical staff meet weekly for planning, sharing, evaluation, professional development. There is a common mission strategy (see below) and parish strategies are expressed in relation to this. There is increasing corporate responsibility for financial decisions. Cooperative efforts continue in worship, fellowship, Christian Education. . . .

This past year we spent a great deal of time completing an in-depth evaluation and from it learned some things about ourselves. At one point we envisioned the Team as growing in oneness and the separate identities of the five fading some over time. The key to the image was the unifying Team. We are moving toward a different image now. The image is one that recognizes and affirms the autonomy and identity of each parish and at the same time makes use of a growing Team structure to help strengthen the parishes. The Team exists to serve and strengthen its members and not to absorb them. This image represents things like corporate responsibility, interdependence, accountability. Work over the next year will be on solidifying this image.

We feel there are particular reasons for developing this later image of the Team. Many of these reasons surfaced as we evaluated the use of our buildings and our attitudes toward them.

The areas of this ministry are made up of people with a strong block consciousness. A church 6–8 blocks away is in a very different world. Many of our people do not drive or own cars. Young couples are beginning to return and buy property in the neighborhood. Many are proud homeowners. Buildings in the various neighborhoods we serve are important to a ministry. We look to the staff to provide flexibility in meeting the needs of the Team. Often we see more options in ways to staff a ministry than ways to cut down on buildings when funds are tight.

Work over the next year will focus on solidifying the work underway. One exciting element of this will be continuing training for the lay staff of the Team.

WHO WE ARE AND WHAT WE HOPE TO DO:
(Team Mission Statement)

We are five congregations who have joined together to help each other. We are united by a common desire to keep the witness of the Episcopal Church alive in our part of Philadelphia through the development of new ministries and outreach and by sharing our skills and resources. We see our mission in these main areas:

Christian Education
Evangelism
Stewardship
Support for community organizations
Inter-parish cooperation
Fellowship

By carrying out this mission we hope to witness to the larger Church that Episcopal congregations in a given area can work creatively together. This is also our way of supporting the developing mission strategy of our Diocese.

APPENDIX #16

RE-I-10

REPORT TO 194th CONVENTION
MISSION STRATEGY COMMITTEE

Your Committee has continued to work in four principle areas:

1. The role of the Bishop
2. Supporting congregational development
3. Monitoring the health of congregations
4. Clarifying expectations of the Diocese for congregations and congregational purposes

The Role of the Bishop

It is essential that the diverse aspects of this role be integrated, narrowed down, and clarified in the eyes of the Diocese, the Bishop, and Church House staff.

We have engaged outside consultants who are skilled in developing and clarifying the role of Lyman Ogilby in the Diocese of Pennsylvania . . . not just any bishop anywhere in the Anglican Communion. These consultants have met with the Bishop and each cabinet member individually and in group sessions away from the pressure of daily business and ringing telephones. Good results have already been forthcoming in terms of enabling Bishop and staff to work together in a more integrated fashion thus enabling sound and timely decision-making at cabinet level. This consulting process will continue to be used in the forthcoming months.

Support of Congregational Development

The South Philadelphia Regional Plan—Your committee has been instrumental in devising a strategy to strengthen congregations in South Philadelphia. Participating parishes are:

Calvary-St. Paul's
Crucifixion
Holy Communion
St. Elisabeth's
St. John the Evangelist
St. Mary's

A regional plan has been developed and set in place. All clergy, wardens, and members of Standing Committee and Council have recently received a copy of the plan in the mail. We urge its study and invite constructive comments.

Two congregations within the regional plan have developed detailed strategic plans for implementation. They have been funded from a recent legacy left for mission work within the Diocese of Pennsylvania. Another congregation has received support for upgrading its facilities.

We believe that, if successful, this team effort and plan may act as a model for other regions within the Diocese.

* * * * *

New Congregations

A sub-committee of MSC has been formed under the leadership of the Reverend William Fischler to seek and recommend areas for the formation of new parishes. This committee has identified seven such areas which meet its criteria, and both Standing Committee and Council have expressed a willingness to support expansion in this field.

Monitoring the Health of Congregations

Committee meetings are times when we discuss the welfare and health of specific congregations in confidence with Bishop Mosley, who acts as staff advisor to the Committee. We direct our efforts toward working out a satisfactory solution to existing problems so that the individual congregation may be enabled to make more Christians and to make people more Christian. Monitoring takes place in the sense of follow-up reports on progress or the lack of it. In this field we act in an advisory capacity to Diocesan staff.

Clarification of Diocesan Expectations

We believe that it is necessary for the Bishop to develop a broad statement of what the Diocese expects of a congregation and to establish a clear channel of communication between the Diocese and each congregation about these expectations.

This is an area where much work remains to be done. It obviously has deep interaction with the consultation process which seeks to define the Bishop's role more clearly.

* * * * *

We accepted the resignation of the Reverend Alice B. Mann with regret and elected Mrs. George (Helen) White and Mr. John Rettew as new members. All of us were saddened by the death of the Reverend Richard Hicks. Dick enlivened our meetings, kept us sane and somewhat logical, and constantly held in front of us Christ and His mission.

RE-I-5

REPORT OF DENBIGH GROUP FOSTER HOME, INC.

The decision of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania to donate $20,000 towards the purchase of a new home, set the tone for a year filled with changes and opportunity at Denbigh Group Foster Home, Inc.

The new house, located at 144 Charles Street in King of Prussia, has provided residents and staff alike with a chance to try their hands ar creative decorating.

New living room furniture was purchased, deteriorating bathrooms were renovated, the exterior of the house was painted, trees and shrubbery were planted, and a darkroom was built and equipped in an unused portion of the basement. A good deal of the work was done by the youngsters, with the help of Co-Director/Houseparent, Bill Wengert.

The move and subsequent remodeling provided the entire household with a common goal, with the result that the family has drawn closer together. Four of the five youngsters now at Denbigh have been here a year or more. Two of them are currently on the Honor Roll at Upper Merion Senior High School, where they are taking College Preparatory Courses. None of the children living at Denbigh have had a single police contact in over a year.

In this most successful year, Denbigh was visited by the Director of Youth Services of the Department of Public Welfare. Ray Naylor, their DPW caseworker, recommended Denbigh because it is "the best example of the Group Home in the Southeast Region."

New houseparents, Bill and Sharon Wengert, and a revitalized Board of Directors, headed by Mr. James DeMatteo, are gratified by Denbigh's year of success, and plan to continue efforts to improve upon the quality of life there.

The generosity of local foundations, notably the JDB Foundation of Plymouth Meeting and the Philadelphia Foundation, have given Denbigh invaluable support. Without their interest, remodeling efforts would have been impossible.

The Wengerts enjoyed a recent visit with Mr. Arthur Criddle, and hope that his interest augurs well for the future. The continued concern of the Diocese will help Denbigh in pursuing its goal of providing a caring home for these deprived youngsters.

THE EPISCOPAL FUNCTION

Within this function, the Diocesan Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Lyman C. Ogilby, carries out his ministry and responsibilities. His basic salary for 1977, including housing is $37,000; expenses, pension and medical/life insurance premiums are in addition to this. Mrs. Jacquelyn Wallace is the Bishop's secretary; she is assisted by Miss Peggy Poglitsch, who also serves as secretary to the Assistant Bishop, the Rt. Rev. J. Brooke Mosley. Providing Staff assistance to the Bishop, functioning as Associate Registrar, an Assistant Secretary of Convention, and as compiler and Editor of the Journal of the Diocese, is Mrs. Edwin Larkin (Olga). The compensation and social security cost of this secretarial and Staff assistance to the Bishops in 1977 is $36,745.

The Rt. Rev. J. Brooke Mosley, Assistant Bishop, shares the Visitation and Confirmation schedules as well as participating in Ordinations. He functions as a member of the Bishop's Staff and carries out special assignments at the request of Bishop Ogilby. He is Chairman of the Coalition of Aided Congregations (COAC) and relates as Staff person to the South Philadelphia Regional Plan, the Mission Strategy Committee, the Hunger Committee and the Ecumenical Committee. His basic salary, including housing for 1977 is $28,000; expense account, pension and medical/life insurance premiums are in addition to this.

In his work with Applicants, Postulants and Candidates, Bishop Ogilby is assisted by the Rev. John F. Hardwick, who manages the process of applications and provides counseling and administrative assistance to those who are applying and those preparing for ordination. In this capacity, Father Hardwick is consultant to the Commission on Ministry and coordinator of the Alternate Theological Education program which is available to persons seeking ordination who are already involved in a career.

In his responsibility for the Deployment of the Clergy, Bishop Ogilby is assisted by Mr. George H. Soule, who is carrying out this goal and provides extensive career guidance and counseling.

All members of the Staff are at the Bishop's call, and are asked to assist him in his responsibilities in a wide variety of ways. Goal 6 under the Episcopal Function, and the amount of money allocated to this goal, signify the basic understanding that two-fifths of the time of the members of the Bishop's Staff is available to the Bishop for his purposes.

THE ADMINISTRATIVE FUNCTION

Mr. John C. Rettew, Financial and Business Manager, has the primary responsibility for the coordination and administration of this function, including the operation of the Diocesan Office. He serves as Staff person for a number of committees, including the Finance and Property Committee, Cathedral Chapter, Commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions and the Stewardship Education program. His salary is $21,000 plus $965 for social security. The Treasurer's Office, headed by Mr. Philip C. Howse, Diocesan Treasurer, is also managed by Mr. Rettew.

Secretarial assistance for Mr. Rettew is provided by Miss Rosemary Stevenson. The cost of the secretarial assistance and supportive services is $38,465 for 1977.

Mrs. Olga Madden is the receptionist. The printing and mailing operations are part-time and are carried out by Mr. Peter Siokalo, who is assisted by Miss Marietta Hilsee. The cost of these services is $13,750 for 1977.

All members of the Staff assist the Bishop and Diocesan Council in carrying out their responsibilities. The Rev. John F. Hardwick, as an Assistant Secretary of Diocesan Convention, acts as Staff liaison to the Diocesan Convention and to the Diocesan Convention Committee. Mr. Rettew and Father Hardwick assist the Bishop and the Standing Committee in the exercise of their functions.

He also serves as Staff person to the Commission on Ministry, Diocesan Council's Action Committee, and provides various kinds of Staff services to a number of the program committees.

The Rev. Dr. Van S. Bird is the Bishop's Staff person for Community Concerns. This is a part-time position; he is also Associate Professor of Sociology at LaSalle College. He is currently serving as a member of the Executive Council, elected by the Third Province. His compensation for this part-time activity is $5,000 annually.

She serves in this position as the result of action taken by Diocesan Council authorizing the sale of the Denbigh Conference Center to carry on the work with young people, one of the major program activities of Denbigh. Her annual salary which, has been allocated by Diocesan Council from the proceeds of the sale, is $13,900; and has been provided from that source for a period of three years. Her primary responsibility is her work with the Diocesan Youth Committee, but she relates to a number of other Diocesan committees and activities.

The Rev. John F. Hardwick, whose salary including housing is $24,000, plus travel, pension and medical/life insurance premiums, has Staff responsibility to the program-budget planning and process through the Diocesan Budget Committee; he is Staff for the Educational Resources Team, the Commission on Ministry in Higher Education, and coordinates the program of Continuing Education for Clergy and Laity. APPENDIX #20

To: DEPUTIES, 194th DIOCESAN CONVENTION

From: The Rt. Rev. Lyman C. Ogilby, Bishop of Pennsylvania

Concerning: NUMBER OF PERSONS CONFIRMED, RECEIVED AND ORDAINED SINCE THE LAST DIOCESAN CONVENTION

Since our last Convention, 1,206 persons have been confirmed in this Diocese. This compares favorably with 1,103 (1975–1976) and 1,902 (October, 1974–October, 1975).

In addition, 131 persons were received into this Church from other communions compared to 111 reported at the Convention in 1976 and 118 at the 1975 Convention.

Six persons were ordained Deacon and eight persons were ordained to the Priesthood during this period.

The Bishops participating in these Confirmations, Receptions and Ordinations were Bishop Ogilby and Bishop Mosley.

194th DIOCESAN CONVENTION

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE

October 1, 1976 to September 30, 1977

At a stated meeting held November 24, 1976 the Standing Committee received a report from the Secretary of Convention confirming the re-election of the Rev. William Musselman and the election of Miss Ruth Fiesel, each for a term of five years. The Rev. Ernest A. Harding, D.D. and Alfred W. Putnam were re-elected President and Secretary, respectively.

The Committee approved the election of three Bishops, three Bishops Coadjutor and the calling of elections for both Bishops and Bishops Coadjutor. In conformity with the policy of the Bishop and Standing Committee for several years, past, it declined to give consent to the election of Suffragan Bishops. This question was carefully re-examined and the position was re-affirmed.

The Standing Committee arranged for interviews of candidates through its subcommittee chaired by the Rev. William S. Musselman. It continued its practice of having one clergy and one lay member of the Committee interview each candidate, with additional members assisting in the interviews in occasional cases. Mrs. Hope Sellers provided liaison as a member of both the Standing Committee and the Commission on Ministry. Five Candidates for Ordination to the Diaconate were collectively interviewed by nine members of the Committee at a dinner meeting at St. Mark's Church in December, 1976. Approvals were given as to eight Ordinations to the Priesthood, six Ordinations to the Diaconate and three candidates.

The Committee considered eight matters involving trusts and estates, two matters involving leases by Parishes of real estate for extended periods of time, three mortgages and eighteen matters involving conveyances of real estate, the majority of which real estate transactions required consideration at more than one meeting. In addition, the Standing Committee was consulted preliminarily with regard to a number of other possible real estate transactions, as to which authorization may be requested in the future. Conveyances and leases of real estate were in some cases routinely approved, but an unusually large number required extensive consideration by the Committee as a whole and also in some cases by subcommittees. Although Standing Committee approval was not refused in any matter, several requests were withdrawn as a result of the Committee's studies and consultation. The Standing Committee does not ordinarily interfere with decisions of vestries to sell, lease or mortgage parochial property except to exercise its canonical responsibility as to adequacy of price, rental, and the like. It prefers that Parishes consult realtors, appraisers, bankers and counsel of their own choice but is available for consultation with clergy and members of vestries as to proposed real estate matters.

Occasional misunderstandings arise with regard to borrowing by Parishes and other congregations. Diocesan Canon 13 requires the consent of the Bishop and Standing Committee to a sale, conveyance or mortgage or lease for more than one year. Therefore, if church property is to be mortgaged to secure a loan, Standing Committee approval is required. However, an unsecured loan need not be approved by the Standing Committee but will need permission from Diocesan Council through its Committee on Finance and Property if the amount is within the limitations on debt provided in Diocesan Canon 17.4.

In 1972 the Committee circulated a detailed statement of policy with regard to real property which is attached to this report. All persons who are or may be involved with church real estate are urged to consider it.

The Committee continues to be concerned at the delay in construction of the building on West Rittenhouse Square to which the Church House offices are to be moved. Alternative possibilities have been considered by a special committee appointed by the Bishop.

The Committee approved nominations to various organizations related to the Diocese. At the Bishop's request it considered a case of restoration to the Priesthood.

The Bishop consulted the Committee with regard to pastoral letters; the Book of Common Prayer; various matters including the status of certain non-stipendiary clergy; various appointments and other personnel matters; visits with seminarians; various ecumenical matters and sundry administrative questions.

The Bishop consulted with the Committee on several occasions concerning the withdrawal of the license to officiate and other matters concerning a priest canonically resident in another Diocese, which matter is set forth in the Bishop's letter to the Clergy of the Diocese dated March 24, 1977. The Committee (and the Clergy of the local Deanery) supported the action taken.

The Bishop and the Committee considered numerous questions concerning Cathedral Village, the organization of the corporation for its operation, the composition of its Board and its financing, guarantees of which were authorized.

An informal meeting was held with the Diocesan staff and others at the Episcopal Academy to consider various questions relating to human sexuality. The Committee visited General Theological Seminary. It also conferred with the Rev. John A. Schultz of the Commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions concerning clergy housing.

The Standing Committee considered the budget for the Episcopal Function of the Program, Budget of the Diocese for 1978 and related financial matters.

The Standing Committee continues to be available for all matters within its area of responsibility. It normally meets on the fourth Wednesday of each month in the Diocesan offices, although occasionally other dates for the monthly meetings are fixed. Advance notice is requested from persons who wish to appear before the Standing Committee on particular matters in order to facilitate the scheduling of Committee business. Open discussion with attendance of interested persons facilitated the deliberations of the Committee in several matters during the past year.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Emmanuel Vestry at their regular meeting in February for presentation at the 194th Diocesan Convention.

WHEREAS a major issue facing the Church today is the ordination of practicing homosexuals; and

WHEREAS several organizations are mobilizing strong political pressure to confront the Church at every opportunity; and

WHEREAS we recognize the homosexual's struggle may be beyond our ability to imagine; and

WHEREAS we believe the scriptural position on the issue of homosexuality is clear and that there is a Biblical balance which we must honor; and

WHEREAS Christ has commanded us to condemn sin as sin and still to love the sinner and, therefore, to extend His love to the homosexual as much as to any other person, recognizing that God loves him enough to have died for him; and

WHEREAS the ministry of the faithful is to call the sinner to repentance, cleansing and healing; and

WHEREAS the Vestry of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Holmesburg, Pa., after prayerful consideration, has expressed to the Bishops of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, its strong opposition to the ordination of practicing homosexuals in the Protestant Episcopal Church; and

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Vestry of Emmanuel Church unanimously urges the 194th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania to register its opposition at the 1979 General Convention to the ordination (and, therefore, legitimization) of practicing homosexuals; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that, at the same time we urge the 194th Convention to adopt the position that the Church can emerge stronger from its confrontation with the problems of homosexuality by standing upon the word of God in full, not just those passages that condemn the sin of homosexuality, but those that put forward the regenerative power of Jesus Christ.

Unanimously adopted by the Vestry,
Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Holmesburg, Pa.

IN RECOGNITION OF ASSOCIATE CHAPLAINS SUBMITTED ON BEHALF OF EPISCOPAL COMMUNITY SERVICES

WHEREAS, Episcopal Community Services of the Diocese of Pennsylvania seeks, where wholeness has been denied, to serve such persons as are "in tribulation, necessity or distress," through a ministry of Care, both pastoral and prophetic; and

WHEREAS, in this commitment, the staff of Episcopal Community Services does not work alone, but is assisted, supported, and enabled to perform its tasks of service through countless numbers of volunteers; and

WHEREAS, in particular, the pastoral ministry of its Chaplaincy Division is made manifest to many in institutions throughout the Delaware Valley by volunteer Associate Chaplains and their parishes;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT the 194th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, meeting in the Arch Street Friends' Meeting House, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, October 21–22, 1977, expresses its appreciation to the Associate Chaplains of this Diocese, both past and present, and thanksgiving to Almighty God, who ordains all to a ministry of service.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

Mrs. William H. Hepburn — May 11, 1977

The saying is, "All good things must come to an end." As of this Annual Report of the United Thank Offering of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, my three years as Custodian come to an end. Thank you for electing me to help make the past three years become full of promise and wonderful memories.

The memories are in the joyful way we came together at the Diocesan Ingatherings to present the many thankful coins of all the Blue Boxes; in the love shown in caring for other people; in the excitement in which the monies are counted and the total rising to new highs; in the thrill when I presented the 1975–76 total collection of $64,755.02 at the United Thank Offering service at the Triennial Meeting of the Women of the Church in Minneapolis; in the thoughtfulness in the phone calls and notes, some for help, many of encouragement; in the grateful way programs were received when asked of parishes to "Show and Tell" about United Thank Offering.

The promise is knowing that United Thank Offering will continue to grow. It will continue to show love and caring. The years to come will show even greater growth of thankful prayers, prayers at daily prayer time, prayers for an instant happening of the moment, prayers for a problem that is solved by God's love, prayers for people everywhere.

United Thank Offering started over one hundred years ago, a dream of two women of the Church. Today, it is not only a dream it is the promise of the women, men and children giving of themselves for the future.

Thank you for all everyone has done to make the past three years as your United Thank Offering Diocesan Custodian, the most rewarding time in service in my life. Please continue to show the encouragement and love to Elizabeth Beath as she starts her term as the new United Thank Offering Custodian for the Diocese.

Respectfully submitted,

LaRue B. Hepburn

DEPARTMENT OF PRAYER AND WORSHIP

Mrs. Kenneth O. Grannum — May 11, 1977

The Prayer and Worship program of 1976–77 was greatly influenced by input from evaluation questionnaires of previous Prayer and Worship sessions.

As a result, therefore, during Advent 1976, we invited a panel of laypersons to share with us the normal experiences of their daily prayer-life. This was a rewarding experience for all.

In Lent, 1977, we had two evenings of teaching on "Changing Times". The attendance was generally good, while the views of a Priest and a Bishop were well received.

I must take this opportunity to thank all the women and men, too, of our Diocese who have been supporting our Program. I, also, am delighted to thank my committee for their untiring assistance.

Mrs. William H. Hepburn

DEPARTMENT OF PROMOTION

Mrs. Fortune F. Harris — May 11, 1977

Through the EPISCOPALIAN, in the section devoted to our DIOCESAN NEWS, we submit newsworthy articles or information having to do with the activities of the several departments of the Episcopal Churchwomen. Additionally, we encourage the parishes throughout the Diocese to submit items which they feel will be of interest to other ECW groups.

We envision, through this medium of communication (news articles and photographs), a kind of sharing . . . "what is happening". To develop this idea further, a recent mailing was sent to each parish ECW President. While the response has been "slow", we are not discouraged. Given time, the parish Presidents may recognize the advantage of keeping in close contact with the Executive Committee's Department of Promotion. This may enable us to feature stories of innovative programs sponsored by the individual ECW parish groups.

We submitted articles relative to the 35th Triennial Meeting of the Women of the Church held in September in Minneapolis, Minnesota, which we felt were of particular interest to our local members. We considered the coverage provided the activities of ECW to be excellent.

LEA HILL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

This fund was established in memory of Mrs. John E. Hill, President of the Women of the Diocese, 1932–38. Mrs. Hill died in 1953. The Executive Committee of ECW administers this fund as part of its budgetary responsibilities.

Contributions are received and welcomed from the various ECW groups throughout the Diocese. This enables us to aid women, at the graduate level, who are training for church and social work.

The Department of Promotion processes the applications, interviews each applicant, forwarding its report with recommendations to the Bishop for final approval.

The following scholarship grants were made for the year 1976–77:

Geralyn Wolf, student at the Episcopal Divinity School	$500.00
Amanda Toig, graduate student at Bryn Mawr College	500.00
Jennifer Stiefel, student at Nashotah House	500.00
Cora Myers, graduate student at Temple University	435.00

Applicants for grants 1977–78 are presently being reviewed.

Mrs. Marcellus Reddick
Mrs. Kenneth Grannum
Miss Rosamond Cross

Respectfully submitted,

ADA B. HARRIS
Vice President

DIOCESAN MINISTRIES

Mrs. George Baitzel — May 11, 1977

This department is concerned with all the Diocesan Institutions and any Lay Ministry programs within the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

The alleviation of Hunger is one of our main thrusts. A communique on this subject was mailed to parishes this past fall; along with a list of Food Cupboards within the various deaneries. We ask that all are mindful of this need.

Volunteers are needed in each of our Diocesan Institutions.

Do watch for a notice of a "Happening" of the Department of Diocesan Ministries in October.

Respectfully submitted,

CARRIE BAITZEL
Vice President

DEPARTMENT OF WORLD SERVICES

Mrs. William Perry — May 11, 1977

In the past year the Department of World Services has tried to continue and expand its services to various disaster areas and agencies in need of help. There were 489 sweaters, hats, mittens and lap robes knitted, and 279 dresses, robes, pajamas, etc. sewn. All of these beautiful knitted and sewn articles were brought in from the parishes of this Diocese (materials were supplied by the World Services Department at our "Supermarkets"). They have been shipped to the agencies listed below:

The American Red Cross
Episcopal Community Services
Navajo Indians
Florence Crittenton Home
C. R. O. P.
Inter-Faith, Eastern Montgomery County
Little Neighbors
The Rebound Children's and Youth Program
Children's Aid Society
St. Christopher's Indian Mission—Bluff, Utah

In November, 1976, we contributed $150.00 to the Kensington, Kingstone Child Care Center for meals for children. Also, in November, fifteen beautiful swearers (knitted by the women of this Diocese) were sent to the Coatesville Veterans Hospital for their "Gifts for Giving" (this enables the veterans to Christmas shop for their families at no cost). By request, twenty-eight specially knitted hats were sent to the Veterans Hospital. In February, 1977, a check for $46.00 purchased Valentine candy for the veterans.

Last, but by no means least, $200.00 went to the Presiding Bishops' Fund for World Relief.

The pet, I believe of us all, (because of the overwhelming response) was "Layette Sunday" on December 17, 1976. Received from Layette Sunday were 80 cap, sacque and bootie sets, 8 dozen diapers, 25 sweaters, 115 nightgowns and stretch suits, 70 receiving blankets, rattles, pins, crib sheets and pads. The cash received ($110.00) purchased two cases each of soap, powder, oil, shampoo, cream, lotion and Q-tips, all for the babies. These things were sent to:

Episcopal Community Services
Children's Aid Society
Florence Crittenton Home
C. R. O. P.
St. Christopher's Mission
Teen Aid (Univ. of Pa. Hosp.)
Red Cross

This has been a most fruitful year for the World Services Department because of all the beautiful women who labored so lovingly to make it just that.

To my committee and all of you, God Bless you and thanks a million!

Gratefully submitted,

CONSTANCE PERRY
Vice President

THE RECTOR, CHURCH WARDENS and VESTRYMEN OF THE CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

2. Other Matters

In the Committee on Incorporation's report dated October 22, 1976 the Committee offered the following resolutions:

"RESOLVED: That the Committee on Canons be directed to revise Canon 1.4.1 to authorize the Committee on Incorporation to approve proposed amendments to Articles of Incorporation which conform substantially with the Model Articles of Incorporation adopted by the Convention of 1969, or any amendment thereof, without reference thereof to or action thereon by Convention; provided that all such amendments so approved by reported by the Committee to the next stated Convention.

"FURTHER RESOLVED: That the Committee on Canons be instructed to consider amendments to Canon 1.4 and Canon 17.2 to provide for a review by the Committee on Incorporation of Articles of Incorporation of organizations operated under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Pennsylvania."
